

NEVER TO LATE

Misunderstandings
Misguided words
One or the other
Led to mistaken turns
The tables turned over
The mirror is cracked, but
Neither one knows how
To find their way back...(chorus)

Chorus:

It's never to late
To rebuild the bridges and open the gates
Tear down the walls and mend broken hearts
Because it's never to late

Fragmented lives
Emotional pain
Heart separation
Can drive you insane
The root now is sprouting
The bitterness grows, and
Neither one knows how to just let it go...(chorus)

Bridge:

You keep yourself
Chained to your past and your dark misery
If you'll open your heart
Release the pain to a peace that will always be

Father and son
Daughter and mother
Saying those things to hurt one another
The years have gone by
The reasons have flowin'
No one surrenders to just let it go...(chorus)
